DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species 1 shown in Figures 1-5

Species 2 shown in Figures 9-11

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species 1: 2-5, 12 and 13

Species 2: 6-11 and 14-16

The following claim(s) are generic: 1 and 17-20

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Species 1 discloses a swivel adapter wherein the pivot surface is on a cylindrical boss and the center adapter has a split bore mountable over the cylindrical boss, wherein the clamp comprises a handle pivotally connected to the center adapter on one side of the split bore; a rocker comprising one end pivotally connected to the center adapter on an opposite side of the split bore, the rocker having a first shoulder at an opposite end; a rod having one end pivotally connected to the handle and a second shoulder at an opposite end; and biasing means disposed between the first shoulder and the second shoulder.

Species 2 discloses a swivel adapter comprising a threaded member extending in the outward direction beyond the pivot surface; a knob disposed against a side of the center adapter and extending in the outward direction, the knob being engageable with the threaded member, whereby tightening the knob on the threaded member locks the center adapter against the base at a desired orientation and loosening the knob releases the center adapter to be pivotable on the pivot surface; a second device connector on the center adapter and facing the base; a third device connector on the base and facing the second device connector, the second and third device connectors engaging in response to the knob being tightened, and the second and third device connectors disengaging in response to the knob being loosened; and a screw extending through the knob, the cylindrical boss and the base, the screw adapted to thread into a device connector supported by the swivel adapter.

Species 1 and 2 lack the same or corresponding special technical features, as set forth above. The respective special technical feature of Species 1 and 2 are structurally and functionally distinct from each other and fail to correspond to a single inventive concept.

4. A telephone call was made to C. Richard Eby on November 21, 2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michael P. Ferguson whose telephone number is (571)272-7081. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (6:30am-3:00pm).
